Website Data Collection Policy

Life Nav uses data collected by cookies and JavaScript libraries to improve your browsing experience and increase the overall performance of our site.

By using our website, you're agreeing to our Website Data Collection Policy as described below. If you wish to update your preferences, you can do so by clicking "Manage the Cookies" link.

How do we collect data on our website?

We use a variety of tools on our website that collect data using both cookies and JavaScript libraries.

Cookies are small text files that store Internet settings from the websites you visit. They are widely used to make website features work, operate more efficiently, or improve your experience on the site. Cookies are also used to remember your preferences or personalise the content so that it is more relevant to you.

JavaScript libraries are snippets of codes we run on the page that are executed when certain actions take place.

How do we use the data collected from our website?

- Purpose: Life Nav uses browser cookies that are necessary for the site to work as intended. For example, we store your website data collection preferences so we can honour them when you return to our site. You can disable these cookies in your browser settings but if you do the site may not work as intended.
